New Generation of Electric Vehicles Johanna Adison 2016-10-01 There is an unprecedented surge of interest in and the desire of producing gaselectric hybrid (HEVs) and all-electric vehicles (EVs) by the governments and public in the industrialized countries. This surge of interest and desire is attributed to several factors relating to the life-threatening air pollution in many parts of the world, the high petroleum price, conflicts in oil producing Middle East regions and the alarming trend of global warming due to rapid increase of greenhouse gas emissions by all sources, including those from transportation. Full electric vehicles use no gasoline; they are powered by a high-voltage electric motor and battery pack. All the elements are now in place to tackle fairly complex static rigid body problems. Battery electric vehicles do not have an internal combustion engine and use no on-board gasoline. Instead, they use a highvoltage electric motor, which gets its power from a high-voltage battery pack. The primary benefit of BEVs is that they completely eliminate carbon dioxide (CO2) and other emissions directly from the vehicle. Therefore, it is vital to raise global ecological awareness and wider public education regarding ecology. Goal of this book is to bring closer to the readers new drive technologies that are intended to environment and nature protection. New Generation of Electric Vehicles presents modern technique achievements and technologies applied in the implementation of electric vehicles. Special attention was paid to energy efficiency of electrical vehicles. Also today's trends, mathematical models and computer design elements of future cars are presented.

Violence and Mental Health Jutta Lindert 2015-02-25 Violence is one of the most important challenges, not only for public health systems, but also for public mental health. Violence can have immediate as well as long-term and even transgenerational effects on the mental health of its victims. This book provides a comprehensive and wide-ranging assessment of the mental health legacy left by violence. It addresses the issues as they affect states, communities and families, in other words at macro-, meso- and microlevels, beginning by describing the impact of violence on neurobiology and mental health, as well as the spectrum of syndromes and disorders associated with different forms of violence. The work moves on to tackle violence at the international—and intranational—level before zeroing in on the nature of violence in communities such as villages or city districts. It also examines the results of violence in the family. Each type of violence has distinct effects on mental health and in each chapter specific groups are explored in depth to demonstrate the heterogeneity of violence as well as the diversity of its outcomes in the realm of public mental health. Finally, the book addresses the notion of 'undoing violence' by detailing case studies of effective interventions and prevention occurring in countries, communities and families. These cases give us pause to reflect on the nature of resilience and dignity in the context of violence and mental health. All the chapters have been written by leading authors in the field and provide a state-of-the-art perspective. The authors, from different fields of expertise, facilitate interdisciplinary and international insights into the impact of violence on mental health.

Rendang Reno Andam Suri 2018-01-10 Rendang content gained good recognition from Gourmand Prize Award in Beijing. Thoroughly researched but written casually, Rendang: Minang Legacy to the World boasts a beautiful presentation of the dishes as well as the landscape of West Sumatra. Reno has become the media go-to source for rendang. It ultimately lays the groundwork about the origins of rendang and its philosophical approach, but it also explains that ultimately there are so many other varieties other than the one we usually have in Padang restaurants. Reno Andam Suri dreamed of promoting rendang to a wider audience by introducing vacuum-packed rendang suitable for air travel. She did not stop there, however. In 2012 she started a blog, Rendang Traveler, to share stories about rendang, the proud dish from her homeland, West Sumatra. To write this book, she returned to West Sumatra, and discovered the rich philosophical and cultural values of rendang, affirming her view that it is indeed a national treasure worth sharing with the world. At her Baralek Rendang (rendang festival) she introduced rendang to an appreciative public through cooking demonstrations, engaging stories, and interesting games. Reno has appeared in many discussions about West Sumatran cuisine, and has conducted various cooking workshops and training sessions. She is also involved in many educational communities such as Indonesia Mengajar and Kelas Inspirasi. Today, she organizes educational trips or travel programs to West Sumatra, which highlights the region's rich culture and culinary delights. She invites participants to become better acquainted with the daily lives of West Sumatrans. She dreams of promoting rendang to an even wider audience, not just as a delectable dish, but also for the wealth of amazing stories behind it, as part of an enduring culture.

Herewith the Clues Boy Vereecken 2019-07-02

An investigation of the Crime Dossiers, a form of literature as mystery game— an entirely new manifestation of gamified literature—developed in the interwar period. “An intricate web of envy, desire and aspiration,” Herewith the Clues is a jaunt through the history of the Crime Dossiers, a form of literature as mystery game—developed in the interwar period—where players solved puzzles much in the way that a detective in the 1920s might have solved a crime using forensics. These mass-produced games came in the form of binders, books, suitcases, or boxes containing crime-scene evidence (and literary red herrings), each piece of evidence itself a kind of riddle. One could see these as not only an entirely new manifestation of gamified literature, but game playing itself evolving: storytelling as a riddle-solving game acted in the flesh, rather than existing solely in the minds of author and reader.
