The Economics of Killing describes how the power of global elites, entrenched under globalization, has created a deadly cycle of violence. In this groundbreaking work, Vijay Mehta shows how attempts at peaceful national development are routinely blocked by Western powers. He centers the 2008 financial crisis in US attempts to block China's model of development. He shows how Europe and the US conspire with regional dictators to prevent countries from developing advanced industries, and how this system has fed terrorism. Mehata argues that a different world is possible, based on policies of disarmament, demilitarization, and sustainable development. This original and thought-provoking book will be of great interest to anyone concerned about the consequences of endless war fueled by the West.

Riding the Roller Coaster Charles K. Hyde 2003-02-01 From the Chrysler Six of 1924 to the front-wheel-drive vehicles of the 70s and 80s to the minivan, Chrysler boasts an impressive list of technological "firsts." But even though the company has catered well to a variety of consumers, it has come to the brink of financial ruin more than once in its seventy-five-year history. How Chrysler has achieved monumental success and then managed colossal failure and sharp recovery is explained in Riding the Roller Coaster, a lively, unprecedented look at a major force in the American automobile industry since 1925. Charles Hyde tells the intriguing story behind Chrysler--its products, people, and performance over time--with particular focus on the company's management. He offers a lens through which the reader can view the U.S. auto industry from the perspective of the smallest of the automakers who, along with Ford and General Motors, make up the "Big Three." The book covers Walter P. Chrysler's life and automotive career before 1925, when he founded the Chrysler Corporation, to 1998, when it merged with Daimler-Benz. Chrysler made a late entrance into the industry in 1925 when it emerged from Chalmers and Maxwell, and further grew when it absorbed Dodge Brothers and American Motors Corporation. The author traces this journey, explaining the company's leadership in automotive engineering, its styling successes and failures, its changing management, and its activities from auto racing to defense production to real estate. Throughout, the colorful personalities of its leaders—including Chrysler himself and Lee Iacocca-emerge as strong forces in the company's development, imparting a risk-taking mentality that gave the company its verve.

On the Nose Hans Florine 2016-09-01 Hans Florine embodies the genius of "and"—collaborative and competitive, fast and safe, audacious and disciplined, visionary and quantitative. The themes that run through Florine's 101 ascents of Yosemite's most iconic route can benefit people who will never climb a rock, indeed anyone inspired by the idea of a passionate, lifelong quest of any type. —Jim Collins, author of Good to Great Hans Florine is a big-wall climbing legend in his own time. He holds the speed record on the Nose route of El Capitan, a 3,000-foot granite cliff in Yosemite Valley that's considered the Everest of the rock-climbing world.

Ascending the Nose takes most climbers anywhere from 12 to 96 hours. Florine, along with climbing partner Alex Honnold, does it in an astounding 2.5 hours. But Florine's story is not one of super-human athletic prowess; it's one of persistence and dogged determination. In 30 years of climbing, he's ascended the Nose a mind-blowing, death-defying 100 times, more than anyone else ever has, and most likely ever will. In On the Nose, Florine describes the most dangerous, pivotal, and Aspirations Beyond Adulthood Coproviding a rare look inside the adrenaline-charged world of competitive climbing in Yosemite Valley. He tells of his very first attempt On the Nose—a failure after 14 hours, his friendships (and rivalries) with climbing's most colorful personalities, and his battle with Dean Potter to secure the definitive speed record on the Nose—an endeavor that's been called the wildest competition known to man. Perhaps most interestingly, Florine attempts to answer the question why. Why would anyone undertake one of the greatest adventure epics on earth 100 times? His answers provide unique insights on how to live a satisfying life, how to achieve big goals, and how an otherwise ordinary guy can become a rock star.

Generation Busted Alan J. Zemek 2010-05 America is headed for bankruptcy. This is not exaggeration, hyperbole, or alarmism. It is a true statement of a statistical fact. The definition of bankruptcy is a legally declared inability of a debtor to meet its obligations to its creditors. If you were born after 1980, congratulations, you belong to Generation Busted. In the 1960's your parents, or maybe your grandparents, liked to use the phrase "Never trust anyone over the age of thirty". If you belong to Generation Busted, it might be time to revive that distrust and suspicion of the economic and political establishment, because the generation gap that existed then is nothing compared to the generation gap that is looming ahead for you. Your parents and grandparents bankrupted you, and you don't even know it yet. I wrote this book for you, so you will know how and why it happened.

Things To Do Before Seeing A Psychiatrist Ben Mark 2021-01-24 Your anxiety over this first appointment may be causing you to assume the worst or think treatment will be tougher than it actually is.1 For instance, you may be thinking you have too many problems to tackle. However, the reality is that your therapist will likely focus on just one or two issues to begin with and move on from there. Being prepared for your first appointment can help you manage your anxiety and nervousness. Prepare for the First Appointment It's important to take some time to sit down a day or two before your appointment. Use this time to reflect on your thoughts. Make a list of everything you are feeling and any questions you have for your doctor or healthcare professional. You will also want to write down any details about triggers, as well as how your life is affected by each item. This is really helpful for your doctor. For example, your list may include: - I have to walk to the other end of Wal-Mart when babies are crying because I can't take the noise. - I don't always believe people are who they say they are. - I can get very angry, to the point of rage. (If there are patterns to things that trigger your anger, include them.) Several friends are angry at me because I have been inappropriately angry. - I feel very lonely and have an extreme need for support. As a result, I spend a lot of time crying. - I can only get a few hours of sleep a night, or I am sleeping 18 hours a day. Whatever ~~your~~ habits are right now, include this information in your list. - Sometimes my thoughts race and I can't seem to focus. If you're feeling paranoid, you need to list not just the feeling, but what you feel paranoid about and how it affects your life. List exactly what you are feeling and experiencing and how your life is affected. Watch the Labels Do not put labels on your feelings or triggers. Let the doctor do that. Therapists could inadvertently be influenced by your labels, which could affect your diagnosis. Taking this approach not only lessens the chance that your assessment of your feelings will misguide the therapist, but can make the whole process much easier for you as well. Once you start writing down or thinking about these exact feelings and experiences you have had, you'll likely find that this is much simpler and easier than trying to give them names and label them yourself. If you find yourself feeling anxious while making your list, take a break. Make sure you are simply writing down your feelings and not trying to find explanations, patterns, or a diagnosis. Why a List Is Helpful for the First Appointment When you break down your feelings and how they are affecting your daily life, you paint a very clear picture for the doctor. It's worry difficult to do that on the spot in a short visit when your brain is spinning and you aren't prepared, so make the list ahead of time. At the same time, don't worry too much if you haven't listed absolutely everything you are feeling or experiencing. Therapy usually takes place over many visits, and this first visit is laying a foundation that can be filled in later on. You may even wish to rank some of your feelings or add notes so that you can share your feelings that are m

Comeback Paul Ingrassia 2013-05-14 In Comeback, Pulitzer Prize-winners Paul Ingrassia and Joseph B. White take us to the boardrooms, the executive offices, and the shop floors of the auto business to reconstruct, in riveting detail, how America's premier industry stumbled, fell, and picked itself up again. The story begins in 1982, when Honda started building cars in Marysville, Ohio, and the entire U.S. car industry seemed to be on the brink of extinction. It ends just over a decade later, with a remarkable turn of the tables, as Japan's car industry falters and America's Big Three emerge as formidable global competitors. Comeback is a story propelled by larger-than-life characters — Lee Iacocca, Henry Ford II, Don Petersen, Roger Smith, among many others -- and their greed, pride, and sheer refusal to face facts. But it is also a story full of dedicated, unlikely heroes who struggled to make the Big Three change before it was too late.
